FINAL REPORT

Attach a report of educational activities conducted in observance of National Coin Week 1983. Supplement your report with documentation, such as press clippings, letters of acknowledgement, programs, bulletins and photographs. The quality of your presentation and documentation will be considered when reports are chosen for publication in THE NUMISMATIST. Large, elaborate reports are discouraged, but reports in scrapbook form are quite suitable and should be considered.

New ANA members recruited during your National Coin Week campaign should be listed on the reverse of this form.

CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION

Certificates will be provided to clubs and individuals submitting FINAL REPORTS and to the individuals and organizations designated by them. Your report should include a printed or typewritten list of club members, institutions and other individuals whose support contributed significantly to the success of your local National Coin Week campaign. Certificates will be sent to the above address for distribution.

All FINAL REPORTS should be sent First Class Mail, postmarked on or before May 25, 1984, to

National Coin Week Report to Nancy W. Green
ANA
Colorado Springs CO.

Photos and press release from Morris County Library tells the story.

The library exhibit case in the main hall is 18 feet long, four feet high and 8 inches deep. I put the ANA Coin Week message in the center and divided the remainder into 8 spaces in which I had a sign for eight area clubs that stated: Morristown Coin Club, Meets First Tuesday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Whippany N.J. I did the same for Summit, Hackettstown, Wharton, Israel Coin Club of N.J. the New Jersey Numismatic Society, Sussex County Coin Club and the Garden State Numismatic Association.

An additional exhibit space in the main entrance afforded a further message.

As the photos show, I used coins, medals, tokens and paper money along with frames showing U.S. Coins with related postage stamps.

It is probably the largest display in the U.S. put together by one person.

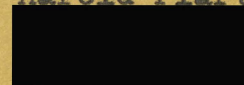

The 8 foot wide hallway didn't allow for pictures without a wide angle lens, but I did the best I could.

I reserved the exhibit space last July, as the cases are in demand. I will put in my bid for the cases for next April when I remove the exhibit April 30

Mr. Dorothy Denney of the Graphic Arts Department made the signs and helped set up the display.

Sincerely

Harold Flartey

FOR RELEASE.....a.s.a.p.....

National Coin Week April 15-21 is being observed at Morris County Free Library with a month long exhibit mounted by Harold Flartey, the coin columnist for the Daily Record.

The observance of National Coin Week is sponsored by the American Numismatic Association which has a nationwide membership of 37,000 and over 1,000 local affiliated group. The observance was started in 1924 so this marks the 60th anniversary.

Flartey started collecting coins and then branched into stamp collecting. When asked if he started collecting coins as a boy he replied, "No, when I was a kid I didn't have two nickles to rub together. I really started collecting when I wanted to interest my sons in developing a hobby".

Over the years Flartey collected type sets of various United States coins but upon retirement divested himself of the major portion of the collection. He retained his most prized piece, a copper coin minted in Morristown in 1787, at the time it was worth 1/15th of a shilling.

Flartey says he now enjoys collecting knowledge about coins their history and doing research for his newspaper column. His expertise has been recognized by receiving 4 national awards for best coin column in newspapers with circulation of under 100,000. He keeps his interest alive by visiting and attending meetings of 7 numismatic clubs that meet in the area.

1984 guide essential for coin investors

Collecting coins as a hobby is an interesting and educational way to meet other folks with the same interests. Investing in coins is another story. If you are putting together an investment portfolio of rare coins you had better do your homework!

Buying coins at auction is a tricky business, but with some study you may be able to purchase at your own price. For example, if you had a listing of 54,195 lots sold at auction in 1983 with the prices realized, you would certainly have a better idea of how much to bid for any type coin.

Krause Publications has released "Auction Prices Realized, U.S.

Coins" with 760 pages of listings covering the smallest to the highest denomination. Sale listings are presented alphabetically, by auction company, for each type coin. Results from the top 51 auctions of 1983 were compiled by Robert Wilhite, well known coin market editor for Numismatic News.

The 1984 APR, U.S. Coins joins its already released counterpart which focuses on paper money in which 19,830 lots from 140 public auctions and mail-bid sales are listed. Events from 1978-1982 are covered in this 360-page volume.

"Auction Prices Realized, U.S. Coins" at $50 and the "APR Paper Money" at $40 are available from the publisher, Krause Publications, Iola WI 54945.

The 60th National Coin Week, sponsored by the American Numismatic Association, starts April 15. This year's slogan is "Numismatics, A Foundation for Friendship."

This should be a colorful celebration with standard bearers of green and black. To bring that into better focus, Nancy Green, librarian at ANA Headquarters, was selected by Q. David Bowers, ANA president, to chair this year's program. Archie Black, past president of the Garden State Numismatic Association, will be the main man on the state level. Green will supply promotional material to local coin clubs and Black will contact the many clubs in the state organization.

The idea behind the whole thing is to promote the hobby of collecting coins, tokens, medals and paper money, and bring the public's attention to the many area coin clubs that hold monthly meetings. Local clubs promote educational programs and provide "a basis for friendship." Dues for members run from $2 to $5 a year.

The state association and seven area coin clubs are represented in an exhibit at the Morris County Public Library through April, where you can find out when and where meetings are held. If you would like to attend any of the meetings, you are welcome. You can attend three meetings before you decide if you want to join.

If you would like further information or an application for membership in the Garden State Numismatic Association or the American Numismatic Association, write to me in care of the Daily Record.

Auction action will be the only business conducted at the Summit Coin Club meeting tomorrow night at the Edison Recreation Center on Morris Avenue. Adolf Weiss will discuss Jefferson nickels at the Sussex County Coin Club, Elks Club, Boardwalk, Lake Mohawk. On Tuesday, the Wharton Coin Club will have a forum at the Wharton Library.

National Coin Week Observed (April 15-21)

National Coin Week (April 15-21) is being observed at Morris County Free Library with a month-long exhibit mounted by Harold Flartey, a local coin collector.

The observance is sponsored by the American Numismatic Association which has a nationwide membership of 37,000 and over 1,000 local affiliated groups. The observance was started in 1924 so this marks the 60th anniversary.

Flartey started collecting a unique program service initiated by the NJ Y Camps — a camping center.

According to Executive Director Joseph Schwartz, the camping center provides travel camps and day camps the opportunity to add an exciting dimension to their program. They can now offer their own campers an overnight camping experience of three to five days. Schwartz continues, "for some children this will be the only resident camping experience they will ever receive. For some children this experience allows them to test the waters before leaving the security of home and hearth." Essentially, the travel or day camp is provided with housing, food, waterfront supervision and program assistance. Daytime programs include kayaking, pool swimming, volleyball, baseball, soccer, basketball, tennis, archery, nature and arts and crafts. Evening activities developed by the camp groups included campfires and song fetes, game nights, scavenger hunts, movie madness, etc.

If you have a group you feel would benefit from a short term overnight camp experience, call Ellen Barocas, assistant director at 575-3333.

Miss Bronze World Of New Jersey Pageant Seeks Area Applicants

Sharris Productions have announced that applications are now available for the 1984 Miss Bronze World of New Jersey Scholarship Pageant. The pageant is the official preliminary to the Miss Bronze World International Pageant and is scheduled to be held in June. The young woman selected as the winner will receive a $1,000 cash scholarship, a trip and other prizes. She will also have the chance to represent the state at the International finals, Aug. 19-26 at the Hyatt Regency in New Brunswick. Her runner-ups will be awarded cash scholarships.

Potential applicants are advised to qualify for the pageant, they must be young women between the ages of 18 and 26 and be high school graduates by June, they must also be single, never married and have any children.

Those applicants selected to be contestants in the pageant will be judged in the areas of personal interview, evening gown, swimsuit, question and answer and talent, with talent and question and answer segments representing fifty percent of the total judging. Applications and further information are available by calling the pageant headquarters at 289-5072 or writing to Miss Bronze World of New Jersey, PO Box 117, Elizabeth, 07207.
